

Little, Brown and Company,
 224 pages, illustrated. Ages 9-12.
 Hardcover (0316614432, $16.95
 retail), paperback (031601480X,
 $6.95 suggested retail).

Please see the author's Web site
ifyouloveread.com
 for sample chapters, extra pictures.

Libby Koponen

Blow Out
 the Moon

Online at ifyoulovetoread.com

An award-winning novel about an American girl who goes to an English boarding school.

★ "The word 'delightful' is over-used in reviews,
 but it's hard to find one that's more appropriate."

Booklist, starred review.

Out in paperback (May, 2006)

Educators and Young Readers on Blow Out the Moon

“Soon the words on the page disappear and you are there with her...At heart this is a moving portrait of growing up, formative moments, and lessons learned. Highly recommended.”

Education Oasis

“Libby’s joyous times at Sibton Park make you laugh out loud ...”

Sixth-grader writing in Just Books

“What I loved about this novel was its theme of self-determination. Once she begins to see herself through the eyes of her boarding school classmates, Libby decides she needs to make some changes to her brash, impulsive personality. The way she does it – without losing what she thinks of as her ‘Americanness’ – makes for a warm, funny, insightful story. Things do not just happen to Libby: she MAKES them happen ...”

“There are also great scenes that depict a child’s viewpoint on cultural differences. A great read!”
Joycesidman.com

“What makes it fun is that the things in the book really happened to the author...Another fun thing is that it is illustrated with photos and letters ....” Fourth-grader writing in
The New York Kids Review of Books

Awards

The New York Public Library’s
One Hundred Titles for Reading & Sharing, 2004.

Massachusetts Book Award for “outstanding achievement in Children’s Literature,” 2005.

Reviews of Libby Koponen’s Blow Out the Moon

“Saddened to have left her friends and after a less than stellar experience at their local London school, Libby spends the remainder of her time in England on the 88 acre estate of boarding school Sibton Park. Her experiences before, during and after this period of her life are documented in a fictionalized fashion that is entirely refreshing!” Children’s Literature

☆ “The word ‘delightful’ is over-used in reviews, but it’s hard to find one that’s more appropriate...Today’s readers, especially Harry Potter fans, will love the British bits and details of boarding school life.”
Booklist, starred review

“Koponen is a gifted writer whose style has a conversational rhythm....a thoughtful, interesting book.” School Library Journal

“...Koponen’s tightly written prose is spiced with humor.” The Seattle Times

“Occasionally, we come across a book that is destined to become a classroom classic. Such is the case with Blow Out the Moon. In its pages we find a spirited main character who shares with us the silliness and seriousness of growing up and the sudden, sweet realization that the world is wide-open with possibilities....” Education Oasis

“...a preteen American girl’s experiences at an English boarding school, which most readers will undoubtedly find strange, but riveting....” Journal-World